When Senator Clapp asserted the press, of international affairs had prevented the President from watching the antitrust program carefully, Senator Bristow intercepted. "I believe," he said, "that the President knows exactly what this conference report does, and that he is supporting it because it does what it does. I am convinced that the President has surrendered his administration to the most sinister influences in the republic. There has been no administration since the beginning of this government, which has so abjectly surrendered to the Wall Street interests as this has done."

The allies great turning movement continued today, and their western wing extended toward Arras. Reports from the upper end of the line on the frontier show the progress of the allies to be slow, but sure. Hundreds of Gorman prisoners fell into the hands of the allies at every point, and it was remarked that the majority were Bayarians, who seem to have been prominent in the front of the German attack.

Great Battle of Aisne Still Is Not Decided

The great battle of the Alsne, which has been in progress three weeks, has not been decided.

The flercest fighting is taking place in the western area, where an extremely violent battle continues, especially in the Roye district, in which the Germans have concentrated considerable forces. The action appears to be extending more and more northward.

On the left wing of the allies one of the French dearcaments which came out of Arras, Department of Pas-de-Calais, has fallen back a little toward the cast and north of that city, according to a French official announcement.

The allies have made progress in front of Albert, north of the Somme, according to the latest official announcement in Paris. Between Roye and Lassigny, the Germans have directed violent attacks against the cilied ling, but these attacks, says the French War Office, have broken against the French and British resistance.

Along the rest of the front quiet is said to prevail. It is officially an-mains on the left bank of the Meuse in the neighborhood of St. Mihiel, twenty miles southeast of Verdun.

The first attempts of the Germans to pierce the outer line of forts at Antwerp appear to have falled. None of the Belgian forts has been severely damnged, it is stated in a French official report, and the German infantry attacks have been repulsed with heavy losses to the invading forces. On the other hand, an official statement issued in Berlin says the siege of Antwerp is making progress.

Reports are being circulated again to the effect that the Germans are preparing to evacuate Belgium, or at least that portion as far east as Brussels.

In the eastern theatre of war a battle which promised to be the company has commenced sear Cracow, Galicia. There an sastro-German army, estimated to number S00,000 mea, is endeavoring to check the Russian advance. Both sides are bringing up reinforcements.

A dispatch from Petrograd declares the Germans have lost 30,000 men in killed or wounded and 20,000 men taken prisoners in the fighting in Hussian Poland.

A message received in Rome from Russian headquarters says that Przemysi, Galicia, the strongly fortified Austrian town, has been attacked by Russians on all sides. Two of the forts, it is stated, already have been taken.

The Servian attempt to cross the river Save in Austria has proved a complete failure, according to an official announcement from Vienna. A dispatch from Petrograd de-

LONDON, October 2 (9:30 P. M.) .-The battle of the Alsne, as it still is called, although the armies contending in it have spread far beyond that river, has been in progress just three weeks, and no decision has been reached. Reports from Paris earlier in the week that the allies operations were about to succeed, were premature. From all appearances there must be more hard fighting before either side gives way. The heaviest blows are being given and taken in the western area, where, according to to-day's French official communications, an extremely violent battle continues, especially in the Roye district, where the Germans have con-Ilrst summons will be executed.
